

Commercial Transactions Attorneys

Reid & Riege, P.C., seeks senior and mid-level business transactional attorneys to join a thriving commercial law practice in our Hartford office. Qualified candidates will have a background of increasing responsibility in commercial/corporate law, with particular emphasis on one or more of the following areas of law: commercial real estate, purchase and sale and merger transactions, commercial financing, commercial contracts, employment and general corporate representation. Preferred candidates will have at least 4 years' experience in a law firm setting. Candidates should possess strong drafting and advocacy skills, embrace a "can do" attitude, work well as part of a team, be driven to expand and hone their legal skills, be dedicated to providing top notch client service, and enjoy a fast-paced work environment. This position will allow mid-level and senior associates to join a team of experienced lawyers with sophisticated commercial law practices, and offers significant opportunity for career advancement.

We offer a friendly and welcoming professional work environment, an excellent benefit package, and competitive compensation commensurate with the level of experience.

Reid and Riege is an equal opportunity employer dedicated to workforce diversity. Interested candidates should submit a cover letter, resume to:
